

Choices Game

Aim: to show that our personal preferences are all different. Making our own choices-not being influenced by others is sometimes harder than it sounds!!

Instructions: Tell the children they must decide which side of the room they stand for each of these choices (or whether to stand or sit). Read out the alternatives, give the instruction to stand for... (or move to the left for...) After a couple of rounds, ask someone why they made that choice.

Chocolate or Cheese

J.K. Rowling or Roald Dahl

Football or Dance

Pasta or Chips

Geography or History

Playing computer games or listening to music

Fortnite or Minecraft

Money or a wrapped (surprise) present

Play a game and always loose or never play the game

Simon Cowell or David Walliams

Ariane Grande or Olly Murs / Rak-Su or Ed Sheeran

When your friend has hurt you, would you forgive them or break up your friendship?

Choices Game

Aim: to show that our personal preferences are all different. Making our own choices-not being influenced by others is sometimes harder than it sounds!!

Instructions: Tell the children they must decide which side of the room they stand for each of these choices (or whether to stand or sit). Read out the alternatives, give the instruction to stand for... (or move to the left for...) After a couple of rounds, ask someone why they made that choice.

Chocolate or Cheese

J.K. Rowling or Roald Dahl

Football or Dance

Pasta or Chips

Geography or History

Playing computer games or listening to music

Fortnite or Minecraft

Money or a wrapped (surprise) present

Play a game and always loose or never play the game

Simon Cowell or David Walliams

Ariane Grande or Olly Murs / Rak-Su or Ed Sheeran

When your friend has hurt you, would you forgive them or break up your friendship?